

African Agricultural Transformation Initiative
Bridging Gaps between Strategy and Impact

ABOUT US

The African Agricultural Transformation Initiative (AATI) was founded by the International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD), the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation (BMGF), McKinsey & Company, and the Alliance for a Green Revolution in Africa (AGRA). The initiative aims to foster inclusive and sustainable agricultural transformation across the African continent. Over five years (2021-2026), the AATI will seek to establish new (and strengthen existing) national agencies designed to support delivery of agricultural transformation policies and programmes.

CONTACT US

+254 20 7624414

africa-agricultural-transformation.org

aati@ifad.org

UN Gigiri, Nairobi, KENYA

SCAN ME

ALLEVIATING POVERTY,
PROMOTING FOOD SECURITY
AND STRENGTHENING CLIMATE RESILIENCE

Vision

To support committed governments to drive inclusive and sustainable agricultural transformations by developing and enabling local delivery mechanisms to improve implementation of strategic agricultural initiatives.

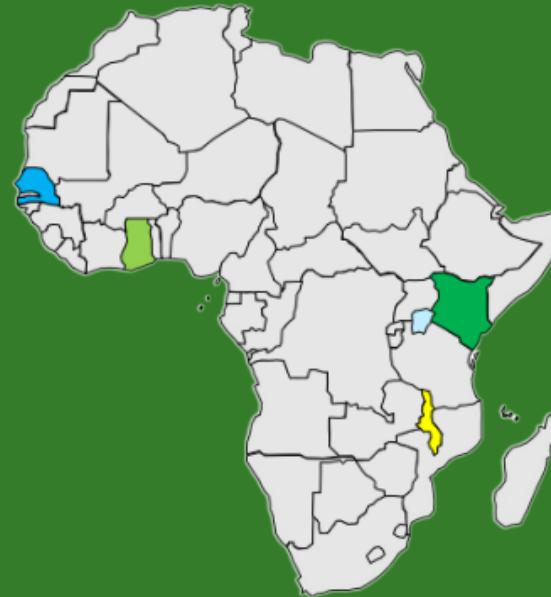

Objectives

AATI activities cover three main objectives:

1 Visioning and strategy operationalization

2 Institutional support

3 Flagship implementation and support

Pilot Countries

AATI has identified four pilot countries to initiate support. These are:

- Kenya
- Ghana
- Senegal
- Malawi

We plan to scale to multiple countries over the coming years.

Partnership

The AATI approach is based on partnership. The main focus of AATI support lies on close on-the-ground collaboration with government stakeholders in partner countries to jointly accelerate sustainable and inclusive agricultural transformation.

Founding Partners

 IFAD
Investing in rural people

BILL & MELINDA GATES foundation

McKinsey & Company

 AGRA
Sustainably Growing Africa's Food Systems